AGENDA

1. Greetings and Introductions

6:00pm Nicole Snook introduces herself and others in attendance.

2. Discussion of Feedback about Comprehensive Human Health & Sexuality Course

6:05pm Text message from parent: "Just as long as the kid[s] are learning both the stuff they wanna learn and the stuff they need to know if that makes sense. Like I'm sure they will all enjoy going over human anatomy...but the disease part that can come along with sex I think [is] super important for them to learn as well."

ASL Interpretation from parent: "It has a lot of good information. The lessons, they all apply to everyday life and should be taught. A male teacher should co-teach sensitive lessons such as masturbation and condom use. Professional organizations should be brought in as guest speakers. Will the boys be separated from the girls for certain topics?"

3. Discussion of Comprehensive Health Course

6:10pm Snook states that the Glencoe Health text has been updated and she has a hardcopy for public inspection.

6:11pm Snook re-introduces Maria Rodriguez from PPSoA to discuss how their educational outreach program can and will support the efforts at CMHS. Ms. Rodriguez shares that at the high school level, teaching health and sex ed in a co-ed environment helps with students understanding boundaries and practicing empathy with each other.

6:30 Snook asks questions about specific activities and content that are suggested in the course and whether or not they should be modified in any way:

- Vocabulary terms and slang
- Critical analysis of images from common advertisements that are sexually suggestive
- Diagrams and actual photographs of body parts
- Condom demonstration
- Birth control methods
